

NEW TITLE DATA SHEET FROM GER MAA PUBLISHERS

Title: Reincarnation Cards® - Awakening Far Memory
Authors: John Knowles, M.A. and Linda Leblanc
Note: This is a boxed set containing a hard cover book (b/w text) and 61 full-color cards. The box is full color and shrinkwrapped. The price-embedded EAN 13-digit barcode is on the bottom of the box.
Dimensions: Box: 8 x 6 in / Book: 7.75 x 5.75. in / Cards 3.75 x 5.5 in ISBN: 978-9963-667-00-0 Copyright date: 2007
Category: BISAC OCC022000 Body, Mind & Spirit: Reincarnation
Binding: Hardcover Page Count: 204
Retail Price: $34.95 US Available and in stock.
Terms & discounts: See www.reincarnationcards.com/tradeinfo.htm
Quantity: First printing 3,000 (24 sets to a carton);
2nd printing Jan. 2008, 5000 sets, by award-winning C&C Offset.
Trade sales: Bookmasters/Atlas Books; New Leaf Distributors; Gazelle (UK)
High resolution .jpg at 50% available at: www.reincarnationcards.com/media.htm

Selling Points:

1. High quality product at a competitive price
2. New insights on popular subject of reincarnation
3. Registered Trademark (USA) granted and patent pending for techniques for expansion of consciousness.

Description: A quality hardcover book/card set, with 61 professionally illustrated color cards, depicting diverse historical periods, occupations, cultures and manner of termination, all designed to provoke “far memories” of both past and future incarnations. The book gives detailed instructions on how the cards are to be used to recall such far memories by following a carefully designed system embedded within this set, for which patents are pending. The chapter “The Evidence” presents solid scientific, physical and anecdotal evidence for reincarnation. A summary of quantum physics breakthroughs and their relevance to understanding this phenomenon includes quotes from such respected scientists as Planck, Einstein, Schrödinger and de Broglie. This approach provides a fresh look at the stunning implications of quantum physics for understanding the true nature of time, space, consciousness and the paranormal. By presenting a philosophical framework to bring greater clarity and understanding of reincarnational experiences, the authors enable readers independently to gain an insight into who they really are and their purpose in the universe.

The set has been called “something new under the sun” by author-lecturer John Anthony West, originator of the “Age of the Sphinx” controversy, and a “stunning, consciousness-expanding work” by the renowned transpersonal psychologist and educator, Dr. Stanley Krippner, in his Foreword to the book.

Suitable for readers and researchers of any age or background, it is an ideal gift for anyone of an enquiring mind that is open to a message that is far older than the pyramids, yet as new as tomorrow.

REINCARNATION CARDS® - AWAKENING FAR MEMORY

by John Knowles, M.A. and Linda Leblanc ©2007

Ger Maa Publishers - Cyprus

ISBN: 978-9963-667-00-0 $34.95 www.ReincarnationCards.com

REVIEWS

Joan E. Phelps (USA), Feb 10, 2007

I have been interested in this subject for many years, but other books I have read tend to be inane and unbelievable. Reading Reincarnation Cards—Awakening Far Memory enlightened me to a facet of my being that I never gave credence to. The book is professional, yet understandable. The cards are absolutely beautiful works of art. Instructions are easy to understand, even for someone who is not familiar with the subject.

Reincarnation Cards—Awakening Far Memory caused me to seriously consider digging deeper into the subject. I would love to hear the authors give a live presentation!

*****

The Midwest Book Review, May 2007

Buddhism is founded upon a belief in reincarnation and that past lives influence how one is born into their present life. Past life regression is a metaphysical belief that we can access our past lives. Now Ger Maa Publishers of Cyprus have published a book-and-card set "Reincarnation Cards: Awakening Far Memory", the collaborative effort of John Knowles and Linda Leblanc, to help by providing tools for anyone seeking to recover forgotten memories of previous incarnations and past life experiences. The informative hardcover book and the sixty-one full-color illustrated cards are specifically designed to evoke intuitive responses in a personal quest for past life access. Now distributed by Lucky Press for the United States, "Reincarnation Cards: Awakening Far Memory" is a unique and enthusiastically recommended addition to Metaphysical Studies reference collections in general, and the personal libraries of non-specialist general readers with an interest in reincarnation and past life therapies.

*****

John Anthony West, author-lecturer, originator of the "Age of the Sphinx" controversy

Something genuinely new under the sun!

This is not a parlor game, any more than are Tarot cards; nor is it New Age crystal sniffing, any more than are ESP or meditation.

Despite the hostility of both our educational establishment, and Western institutionalized religions, a large percentage of the world persists in believing in reincarnation.

Recalling past lives, however, is usually a hit-or-miss affair, occurring spontaneously (mostly in early childhood then disappearing from memory) but later in life requiring the aid of a trained therapist/ facilitator. Since there are testable, specific techniques for developing other latent human faculties (e.g., altered states of consciousness, ESP in its many forms) Knowles and Leblanc have applied similar principles to accessing our hidden past life memories.

These unique cards represent symbolic memory templates of specific historical milieus. They are designed to be activated by correctly directed attention ... and then voila, the chances are good that deeply hidden (and multiple) memories will rise to the surface and you will finally know who you were and what you did as your former selves (and then you'll just have to live with it ... though that's another matter.)

A fascinating and potentially valuable tool for developing self-knowledge, and for confronting certain persistent life problems and patterns that otherwise resist resolution.

*****

Ronald Russell, author of The Vast Enquiring Soul (review published in Scientific and Medical Network Review, Spring 2007, UK)

This is something different. REINCARNATION CARDS®—Awakening Far Memory consists of a boxed set of sixty-one beautifully designed cards, intended to evoke intuitive responses, together with a handsomely produced hardcover book. In his Foreword, Professor Stanley Krippner describes the publication as embodying “an imaginative and novel technique...specifically designed to probe into one’s hypothetical reincarnations.” Referring to reports of glimpses of events and activities occurring before one was born, he comments that “whether these glimpses represent past-life memories, archetypes of the psyche, or metaphors of current life activities, they can be linked with and evoked by the cards, following the suggested rituals described by the authors.”

This, however, is not the main purpose of this project, which is to provide a means of encouragement to take a fresh look at consciousness, “the pattern of awareness, intention and reflection that permeates the cosmos.” For the authors, the world is not ‘outside’ or ‘external’, except apparently to the physical body. They maintain that consciousness is “primal and ubiquitous”, that the universe is not ‘out there’ but ‘in here’, not composed “of an hypothesized matter, but is the manifestation in time and space of one infinite superconscious Being, or Cosmic Mind.” They continue: “This Cosmic Mind, to which the individual’s conscious and unconscious egoic mind are essentially connected, contains all knowledge of all creatures and events, past, present and future, in a timeless NOW. In relation to you as an individual, high-level being, it contains, inter alia, your complete incarnational history, past and future.”

Whether or not you agree with the authors that “the reincarnation experience is a fact,”(you will need to study their chapter “The Evidence” to help you make up your mind) or whether you accept the “unimpeachable stratigraphic evidence of the presence of anatomically modern humans on this earth many millions of years ago,” the Reincarnation cards themselves can provoke you into new ways of considering yourself and lead you into areas you have never previously explored. The cards are divided into five categories: Occupation, Culture, Environment, Theme and Termination. You are advised to keep notes, state your intention, ask for guidance, shuffle the cards and allow your hand to select one from each of the five groups. Then you turn to the book and read the text associated with each card. The authors take care to advise you how to proceed by recording your intuitive responses and your impressions, the resonances that each card may evoke. They also suggest that you consider each card in the context of the others that you draw.

For every card there is an accompanying short essay which guides you in an interpretation of the information or message that the card conveys. In a final essay, the authors explain that the cards “are intended not only to help you to recall details of so-called incarnations, but also to awaken your intuition to the full, leading to a direct insight into what is ultimately real, behind all such phenomena. You will then know that, as consciousness itself, you are essentially identical to the Logos or Brahman, the One Cosmic Mind.” In the nine pages of this essay the authors develop their view of the Cosmic Self and the Cosmic Mind. They attack the common belief that the individual is an unchanging soul-personality “wandering through the incarnations in search of ‘enlightenment’”. If you believe yourself to be “a seeker on the Path,” you will continue going round in circles “until you realize who you really are and have always been.” They maintain that there is no Path, no Goal, no progress and no spiritual evolution. “The final truth is that there is, and can be, only the One Mind, the ultimate Self of All, in an Eternal Now, and you are That.” By creating Time and by focusing on “the vastly shrunken individual level,” we have forgotten who we really are.

Awakening Far Memory displays a remarkable depth of knowledge of ancient history and philosophy, much of it drawn from the authors’ extensive research library, and is buttressed by a bibliography of some 130 items. It challenges its readers, requiring them to investigate their own thought processes and to open themselves to possibilities they may never have previously considered. In this, it fully justifies its unusual presentation.

John Knowles is a Canadian philosopher and parapsychologist. He served in the Royal Canadian Air Force from 1941-45, as a Hurricane pilot and in 1944 as a Chindit operating behind enemy lines in Burma. Post-war he worked in senior posts in varying capacities for the Canadian government and the United Nations, serving in some seventy countries around the world. His philosophical essays have appeared in British, American and Cypriot journals. His interests are shared with his wife Linda, herself a published writer and lecturer, recently elected as the first foreign-born female ex-pat local counsellor in Cyprus.

*****

Donna Coomer, Between the Lines Reviews (05 May 07)

SECRETS REVEALED, QUESTIONS ANSWERED

You will know you have something special in your hands when you first hold the box that encompasses the book AWAKENING FAR MEMORY and the beautifully crafted REINCARNATION CARDS that accompany it. But proceed slowly, for you’ll want to place yourself in the proper frame of mind when you start to work with the cards. Yes, I said work. As the authors remind us, the cards are not a type of game but a powerful tool offering insight and knowledge into “the circumstances of other apparent embodiments”.

But that’s not to say that the book is not extremely deep. What it is is a well researched examination of the idea of reincarnation. By slowly investing us with knowledge on this subject we are given the chance to weigh our current beliefs with what the authors proffer. This works superbly as a lead up to how you use the cards.

Having a desire to find out where and what we may have been in a previous incarnation usually goes hand in hand with bits of mystery about our current embodiment. What you say, you have no bits of mystery? Well much to your delight when you've chosen a card from each of the five groups and go back to read about their basic meanings, questions will be answered that you haven't even asked.

---

So, find a quiet time and place and bring the book and the cards. Should you choose, add your pendulum to these and maybe even a little incense to create a "far memory" mood.

Let your mind take in the information and combine it with some personal resonance. Becoming one with the Universe its past, present, and future will ensure that secrets are revealed to help in this incarnation and those to come.

*****

Yvonne Phillips, Pittsburgh, PA, May 6, 2007

---

This is the best book that I have ever read that assists you in the journey of finding your past lives. The information that is included in this book is well written and clearly understandable. I am amazed at the intellectual theory in this book! I would highly suggest that you wake up your memories with these cards. Every few days I bring them out and add more information to my journal and it is incredible how all of a sudden you start having a picture of a previous life!

*****

Journal of Spirituality and Paranormal Studies* (Vol. 31, Number 1, January 2008) Yvonne Limoges, Florida

The production of this book and the cards that come with it are meant by the authors to serve a unique and serious purpose. As the prestigious professor of psychology and internationally renowned researcher and writer on human consciousness Stanley Krippner, Ph.D. states in its Foreword, "Reincarnation Cards embodies a novel technique ... that was specifically designed to probe into one's hypothetical reincarnations" and he vouches for the authors' "personal integrity and the purity of their motives." He further states that "the discerning reader may note its conceptual similarity to various projective personality tests used in psychology. These cards have much in common with, for example, the Thematic Apperception Test, involving responses to pictures, and especially, the Rorschach Inkblot Test, a device designed to evoke responses from the subject's unconscious that are alleged to reveal someone's personality dynamics." He continues in that whatever a user may experience "Whether these glimpses represent past-life memories, archetypes of the psyche, or the metaphors of current life activities, they can be linked with and evoked by the cards ..." They serve as tools just as psychologists and researchers have used cards previously in order to evoke responses from a subject's subconscious to allegedly reveal different aspects of personality. Nevertheless, possibly evoking images of would-be past lives is not the sole intent of the authors. Dr. Krippner states that the authors would like it to be used as a tool intended "to lead ultimately to the expansion of the consciousness of the user."

Reincarnation is held as an established belief by many millions in Eastern cultures but the authors believe that "there can no longer be any doubt" and that there "is overwhelming evidence of the truth of reincarnation." Basing their conclusions on information by scientific researchers, psychiatrists, clinical psychologists and past-life therapists in the Western world, the authors are convinced that reincarnation "must now be regarded as a fact, not fantasy. They emphasize the research conducted by the late Dr. Ian Stevenson, former Carlson Professor of Psychiatry, and his associates at the University of Virginia Medical School. Over 2,500 cases suggestive of reincarnation have been compiled by his team of researchers, the most compelling including data that possibly indicates that reincarnated individuals may pass physical trauma from one lifetime on to another physical embodiment in another lifetime manifested in the form of birth marks and birth defects.

The book itself contains chapters introducing the material and its purpose, information regarding evidence of what the authors believe to be sufficient proof of reincarnation (supplemented by an extensive bibliography), their explanation of the benefits of reincarnation and a chapter on the possibility of lost knowledge and civilizations existing prior to what has already been recognized by the scientific establishment (also supplemented with a bibliography for further individual research). One large chapter fully and clearly explains how to use the sixty-one cards and the meaning of each, which are divided into five categories. I used the cards easily and the results of my own experience were quite interesting for me personally. The authors invite the users of the cards to freely communicate their experiences and they provide an address and an email for that purpose. The book also contains a glossary for the many different terminologies that may not be familiar to the reader. In their conclusion, the authors try to assist the reader to bring the research of their experiences into focus and then provide a philosophical explanation in a chapter entitled "The Secret."

This book with its one-of-a-kind cards provides a creative and innovative system that assists the reader/user to take a fresh new look at consciousness through a holistic approach that as Dr. Krippner states, "in a form that will appeal to interested people who rarely have been exposed to such ideas."

*****

ARCTURUS BOOKS INC., Port St. Lucie, FL USA

FEBRUARY 2008 : ESSENTIAL READING, PART 3: New And Old. - NEW ARRIVALS

Not a game, but rather a serious research tool to accelerate spiritual growth.

The aim of the authors in their own words is: "to attract and to provide a research tool for people who are interested in the reincarnation phenomenon, for reasons of personal curiosity; and, on a deeper level, to satisfy those who are genuinely looking for understandable answers to ultimate philosophical questions.

All such questions are answered in the final chapter, The Secret (a great piece of insight!), and in the quotations on unnumbered page 168, as well as in the Glossary.

In the Foreword, Stanley Krippner, professor of Transpersonal Psychology, called it, inter alia, a "stunning consciousness-expanding work". He also described the Glossary as "an education in itself".

It took the authors four long years of study, research and hard work, to bring this project to fruition. They had been Arcturus Books clients for almost two decades, and they found, at least in part, many sources for their research and inspiration, through many of Arcturus's books.

The research and studies that went into this work are self-evident and so the cards become a great tool for those who are seriously studying the subject of reincarnation as well as Metaphysics and spiritual knowledge.

Curious and seeker of Truth as I am, I've been having a great time with these cards, both using my inquisitive mind and, on the other hand, sharing them with friends, since they can be entertaining and fun, at the same time that it leads you to deepen your own search for answers to those important subjects.

So if you are a little bit like me, you will find them very interesting and a tool for learning too! $34.95

*****

